THIRTY-FOURTH YEAR NO. 10.

CEDARVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY, MARCH 3, 1911.

PRICE, $1.00 A YEAR.

YOUNG LIFE STILLED IN DEATH.

Harold Parry Cowley, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Cowley, who reside south of town, died about three o'clock Wednesday morning after about one week's illness. While attending the last meeting of Evangelist Biederwolf in Xenia last Wednesday, the young man was taken with severe pains around the stomach and after a day or so improved to such an extent that his family had no occasion to be alarmed over his condition. There was no change for the worse in his condition until about six o'clock Tuesday evening, and from that time on until the end he suffered intensely. Death was caused by a malignant case of peritonitis. The young man was 16 years of age and his removal from the home circle, from his school and church friends comes in a most startling manner for few knew of his illness. The entire community extends sympathy to the bereaved family in their hour of grief. Besides the parents, one brother, Wilbur, and two sisters, Martha, at home, and Mrs. Raymond Bull, survive. The funeral takes place this morning (Friday) at eleven o'clock from the home and will be conducted by Rev. J. S. B. McMichael, of the United Presbyterian church where the young man was a member. Burial takes place at Woodlawn in Xenia.

The large volume of our business for the past year puts us in a position to give still better satisfaction to our customers.

As a proof, let us show you our $14.85 suits. Good, honest, reliable American woolen. Some cut in the extremely radical style, long roll, padless shoulders, form fitting, others in the modified fashion, and still others, conventional; but all are made from exclusive and beautiful patterns.

Country Life Conference.

The College of Agriculture of the Ohio State University through its Department of Agricultural Extension has arranged for holding a Country Life Conference at Xenia, on Friday evening, March 3rd, and the afternoon and evening of the following day. This Conference is called for the purpose of discussing the various problems of rural life. A special invitation is hereby extended to the farmers, farmers' wives, ministers having country charges, members of township boards of education, and pupils in the rural and village schools of Ohio. It is planned to have a meeting for each of these various classes of country people. Excellent speakers for the Friday evening meeting have already been obtained, and the State College of Agriculture is planning to make the whole Conference one of the most enthusiastic and profitable meetings of its kind ever held in Ohio. It is being held by country people for the country people; but people from the larger towns are also invited to attend. The program, which is now being prepared, will later appear in this paper. Everyone who is interested in better things for the country should arrange to attend the Country Life Conference at Xenia, Friday and Saturday, March 3rd and 4th. The meetings will be held in the McKinley School Auditorium. There will be no admission fee charged at any of the meetings, and everyone interested in rural affairs should plan to attend all the sessions.

L. T. L. Silver Medal Contest.

There will be a Silver Medal Oratorical contest held in the opera house on next Tuesday evening, beginning at 7:45 o'clock. The contestants are: Messrs. Paul Turnbull, Robert Conley, Burton McElwain, Andrew Creswell, Ernest Foster and Cecil Burps. New and strong selections will be rendered by these splendid young men and the contest promises to be a most interesting one. Excellent music consisting of piano duets, a ladies chorus and a whistling solo will also be an attractive feature of the evening entertainment. Admission will be 10c for adults and 5c for children. The contest is being given by the young people of the Senior Loyal Temperance Legion and deserves the hearty support of every good citizen in and around Cedarville.

WATER WORKS IS NEEDED.

There has been considerable agitation the past week as to the need of a water works system for the village either to be owned by the village or by some private company. The many recent fires have convinced many of our property holders that there should be additional protection given our people. The direction of the wind for the Crouse and Creswell fires is all that saved the business portion of the town. Had the wind been in the east instead of the west, and the fire engine not working properly, there would have been little or no chance to save the Crouse meat store, C. H. Crouse residence, C. W. Crouse block on third street and probably the opera house. To older residents the fire last week in this section brought back vivid recollections of the time when the same section of the village was swept clean in a single night.

The time seems opportune for a water works system right now. Money spent for fire protection is never lost. A single fire might result in the loss of enough property in the village to pay for the whole system. The fire engine has paid for itself many times in the twenty three or twenty-four years it has been in service. Those who objected to the purchase of the engine at that time would not have it removed today, if there was no chance of getting another.

While the engine has been of good service and always responded when needed, except last week, it must be taken into consideration that practically no repairs have been placed upon it since it was purchased. Like other machinery there is some wear and the engine has reached the age where a considerable sum, estimated at about $1,000, will be required to place it in good condition. The advantages of a water works system are many and would result in the increased value of property. First and foremost is the protection that would be derived in the case of fire. For an ordinary fire the water pressure would be sufficient for all purposes. In extreme cases the fire engine could be used which would give the people of the village fire protection equal to that of the cities.

The many other uses of a water system cannot be described at this time. For sprinkling purposes during the summer months there would be a great demand. For sanitary purposes there would be nothing that could surpass a first class water system. For generating light power for different purposes there is nothing that could take its place for low cost.

The movement for a water works system should receive the support of the entire community. There is nothing that Cedarville needs more at this time than such a water works system. It's for the public to decide.

DENISON UNIVERSITY AT CEDARVILLE.

Cedarville people should be congratulated on having the opportunity of seeing the "State Champion" Boys' team play our Varsity Boys Saturday eve, March 4th, at the Alford Gym.

Cedarville patrons have seen our own State Champion Girls play all season now come out Saturday eve and see the boys take on the fastest basketball team in Ohio—Denison University.

Denison will be handicapped by a small floor and closed ends and with the extra hand practice Cedarville has been getting in this week, she stands a good chance of defeating Denison. Denison plays University of Cincinnati tonight and having heard of Cedarville's basketball reputation telegraphed for a game with Cedarville for Saturday eve. The game promises to be as fast in every respect as was the Carnegie game and Cedarville will make them go the limit. This is the last big game of this year's schedule. Everyone out and help Cedarville beat the Champions of Ohio.

THEATRE NOTES.

On Monday evening, March 6th, Frederic Thompson will present "The Spendthrift" at the Fairbanks Theatre, Springfield. It is by Porter Emerson Browne, author of "A Fool There Was" and is a pulsating, vital drama of American life of today. It is a story of extravagance. A young wife has been spending too much money, but her husband does not say anything because he loves her. In spite of his love she refuses to become a mother, and upon this depends the development of the story. Finally her husband becomes bankrupt, the wife sees her mistake and they both become reconciled. Written by an observing, skillful playwright who has just arrived at the height of his power, it emphasizes the almost criminal wastefulness which is a characteristic of the daily lives of many persons—men as well as women—a certain stratum of contemporary society. It teaches its lesson in an attractive fashion.

ESTEEMED WOMAN CALLED HOME.

Mrs. Margaret Stormont McIntyre, widow of the late Andrew McIntyre, who formerly resided on a farm near the R. I. school-house, died about one o'clock, Thursday morning at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Torrence, in Xenia. Death was due to paralysis.

The deceased was a native of Pennsylvania, but for fifty years had been a resident of this county. She was 78 years of age last October. For several years she has been making her home with Mr. Torrence and wife but was a frequent visitor in Cedarville where she had many warm friends.

Besides Mrs. Torrence, two sons survive, W. N. McIntyre, of Kansas City, and A. C. McIntyre, St. Louis. Mrs. McIntyre was a member of the Reformed Presbyterian church (O. S.) of this place and was a devoted Christian.

The funeral services will be held from the home Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, burial to be made at Masses Creek cemetery. It is expected that the funeral cortege will reach the cemetery about twelve o'clock and friends from here can assemble there when the casket will be opened for them.

EASTER HATS.

"Here's a bit of hat wisdom worth considering: Don't look upon your spring hat merely in the light of a necessary head covering. Don't regard its selection as a trivial matter and something the quicker you get through with, the better. Don't be too much influenced by the prevailing mode in millinery or the persuasive voice of the saleswoman. Use your own judgment and remember that the new hat requires respectful consideration," says Grace Margaret Gould in Woman's Home Companion for March.

"If you know hats at all, you will quickly realize how true this is for even the most innocent-looking hat you can picture has latent possibilities all its own which are worth serious thought. Think of the ways a hat, just a mere now spring hat, can change your appearance. It can quickly add to your charm and chic. And it can just as quickly make you a subject. It can add, simply by the facing of the brim or its curve, years—yes, years—to your age, or it can give a fresh, youthful glow to your complexion and be kind, very kind, in its softening influence upon those tell-tale lines every woman wants to hide.

"Now as to the new fashions in hats for spring: First, there is a tendency of the brim to turn upward. And upward it does turn in a variety of ways. On the other hand, a number of picture shapes show a broad brim which droops slightly, but the extreme mushroom effect is no longer seen. Head sizes in the new hats are much smaller, but this change does not tend to raise the hat—that would not be correct, for the hats that sit well down on the head are still the mode. Fashion has been no one particular shape in crowns. They vary according to the lines of the brim."

If you are having trouble in getting good bread, probably the fault lies in the flour that is being used. "Gladdings" flour means all that the name implies and will prove so if given a trial. Kerr & Hastings Bros.

The District Was There.
Deference to the Taylor of Tennessee was shown by a northern guest who was rather skeptical about the possibility of a contest in the district. He thought it was a dream. To disprove the contention, Mr. Taylor had made a wager with his guest that the northern would be unable to interpret the language of the contest. Accordingly they set out and presently came upon a black man looking solemnly in the sun. Telling his friend to pay close heed, Mr. Taylor stepped up to the negro and demanded suddenly: "What he?"

The negro blinked his eyes stolidly and then answered in a guttural voice: "What who? Everybody's."
Found the Saint's Day.
One Russian peasant sued another to recover the sum of 50 rubles, the debt or having faithfully promised to return the money on St. Henry's day. But, having failed to do so for a long time, the lender discovered that the Russian Orthodox church includes no such saint as St. Henry, and the judge before whom the case was tried was much puzzled as to what verdict he should give. Happily the idea occurred to him that, saint or no saint, All Saints' day included even the most doubtful, so he gave judgment that the 50 rubles should be returned next All Saints' day.

Very Obliging.
"Sir," fairly said the lady of uncertain age to the floorwalker, "is there any way of getting one of these salesmen to pay me some attention?"
"Well," says the floorwalker confidentially, "I'll introduce you to any one of them you fancy, but I'll tell you now that all of them have their 'standees'."—Judge.

An Amiable Man.
"Why do you argue with your wife? Don't you know it doesn't do you a bit of good?"
"Sure I do. But I ain't got such a mean disposition as to deprive her of the pleasure."—Cleveland Leader.

His Preference.
"Let me give you a pointer," the instructor said to the end man.
"Don't give me a pointer," replied the end man, "give me a fox terrier."—Chicago Tribune.

All Ready For the Show.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of system thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and restoring nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Very Serious

It is a very serious matter to ask for one medicine and have the wrong one given you. For this reason we urge you in buying to be careful to get the genuine—

THEY'RES BLACK-DRAUGHT
Liver Medicine

The reputation of this old, reliable medicine, for constipation, indigestion and liver trouble, is firmly established. It does not irritate other medicines. It is better than others, or it would not be the favorite liver powder with a larger sale than all others combined.
